

AIR & SPACE

Smithsonian

Flaps full out, a 747 from Pakistan lands at Manchester International Airport, England.

Features

22 Infrared Dawn

A million miles from Earth, the next space telescope will find the dimmest objects ever seen.

BY CHRIS KLIMEK

28 Fighter Pilot's Survival Guide

Today's combat pilots ask: What would Eddie Rickenbacker do?

BY JOHN SOTHAM

34 Life Aboard an Aircraft Carrier

Impressions from a very funny book by a very tall novelist.

BY GEOFF DYER

38 RESTORATION Northrop X-4

An X-plane that barely made its mark.

BY STEPHAN WILKINSON

40 747: The World's Airliner

Why everybody loved Her Jumbo-ness.

BY CHRISTINE NEGRONI

RUSSIAN SPACE

48 Russia's Rocket Town

Take a tour of the spiciest place on Earth.

PHOTOGRAPHS BY JAMES HILL

52 The Spaceport in Siberia

After a trip to the new launch pad, getting to orbit will seem easy.

BY ANATOLY ZAK

54 Build Your Own Drone

The U.S. Marines may thank you.

BY ED DARACK

60 HOW THINGS WORK Geared Turbofan Engines

Less fuel, longer range, easy maintenance—yay!

BY ROGER A. MOLA

62 EARLY JETS Night Fighter

How the dowdy Douglas Skyknight became a MiG-killer.

BY ROBERT BERNIER

ON THE COVER:

After Lyle Jansma faced off in 2010 with then F-22 demo team commander Dave "Zeke" Skalicky at Davis-Monthan Air Force Base, he created this Photoshopped image. F-22 pilots survive by following guidelines laid down by the first air combatants 100 years ago. Story, page 28.

Departments

2 Viewport Boeing's gifts

4 Letters

8 What's Up Europe's multi-role, delta-wing darling

10 Soundings I dub this crater "Morty"

14 NEW: Bill Sweetman Technically Speaking Spotting secret aircraft

16 Above & Beyond The grain in Spain

18 Oldies & Oddities Paddle power

20 In the Museum The suit that went Mach 1

68 Sightings Crashes and forced landings that ended well

70 Reviews & Previews Books, iPad apps, more

76 Credits

78 Forecast Coming in future issues

80 One More Thing Hawker Hurricane