- The Norwegian Home Guard's QRF forces perform force protection during a winter exercise. (Photo: Forsvaret/Ole-Sverre Haugli)
- Small inserts on cover depict Australian and New Zealand Army trainers from Task Group Taji that are delivering eight weeks of instruction to soldiers undertaking the Iraqi Army Non-Commissioned Academy's Junior Leaders Course (Photo: Australian DoD); two of 32 FUCHS 2 (6x6) NBC reconnaissance vehicles that were delivered to the UAE (Photo: Rheinmetall); and lookout, navigators and operation aboard HNoMS OTTO SVERDRUP during Exercise "Flotex 2016" (Photo: Forsvaret/Johan Ludvig Holst).
- Small insert in contents shows a US Marine participating in a field training exercise during training Exercise "Iron Sword 16" in the Rukla Training Area, Lithuania, 29 November 2016. (Photo: USMC/Sgt. Kirstin Merrimarahajara)
- Combat Aircraft Special cover shows LCA TEJAS, for which, in November 2016, the Indian government finally ordered 83 Mk.1A aircraft for delivery 2023-2025. (Photo: Georg Mader)
- Transport Aircraft Special cover shows that as of September 2016, Lockheed had delivered 2,519 C-130s across all variants, while 458 C-130J versions (shown) have been ordered and 365 delivered. (Photo: Lockheed Martin)
- The last page shows Lockheed Martin's Multi-Function Training Aid, having "tested our LVC solution[s] and we are now exploring the technology on additional platforms and with increasingly complex scenarios. Integrated LVC training is certainly where our customers need us to innovate, and we are excited about how this technology redefines training," according to the company. (Photo: Lockheed Martin)
